Re: Protecting Medicare Advantage Beneficiaries from Policies that Reduce Access to Affordable Care

Members of Congress,

On behalf of 63 organizations representing providers, community organizations, employers, health plans, and advocates serving millions of Medicare Advantage beneficiaries, we urge Congress to protect Medicare Advantage and ensure that any policies affecting the program are made in a deliberate, transparent process that fully considers their impact on America's seniors.

Over 55% of Medicare beneficiaries—more than 35 million Americans nationwide—choose Medicare Advantage because it delivers comprehensive, affordable care at a lower cost than Fee-For-Service Medicare.¹ At a time of rising health care costs, Medicare Advantage saves beneficiaries more than $3,400 annually² while improving management of chronic conditions and offering supplemental benefits that traditional Medicare does not.

The success of Medicare Advantage is the result of focused work to align incentives, coordinate care, and prioritize prevention. Yet some legislative proposals under consideration, including the No UPCode Act as introduced, would jeopardize this progress—reducing care coordination, cutting in-home Health Risk Assessments (HRAs), and jeopardizing the benefits seniors depend on.³

In-home HRAs are a crucial link that help clinicians identify seniors' unmet needs and keep them healthy. For many low-income, rural, or homebound beneficiaries, these visits are their only access point to care. Curtailing HRAs would increase avoidable hospitalizations, cut preventative care, and compromise the independence of seniors across the country.

We also ask Congressional leaders to work closely with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) to safeguard the care coordination and assessments at the foundation of Medicare Advantage's success. It is essential for CMS to ensure that regulatory and budgetary changes to Medicare Advantage do not inadvertently weaken the services that keep seniors healthy.

We urge Congress to:

- Protect Medicare Advantage beneficiaries from funding cuts and policies that would undermine affordability, access, and benefits.
- Reject proposals that would reduce care coordination, limit preventive services, or disrupt in-home Health Risk Assessments.
- Ensure that all Medicare Advantage policy changes are developed under regular order and take into consideration solutions from stakeholders and beneficiary advocates.

Better Medicare Alliance and our community of allies are focused on modernizations that would strengthen Medicare Advantage while protecting access to care. There are important opportunities to streamline prior authorization, ensure provider directory accuracy, strengthen accountability for in-home HRAs—including standardizing clinical guidelines and promoting enhanced coordination with primary care providers—and examine better cost comparisons between Medicare Advantage and Fee-for-Service Medicare. We thank Congress for its efforts to enhance Medicare Advantage and look forward to continuing this important work together.

Seniors choose Medicare Advantage because it works. Congress must build on this progress by rejecting policies that put seniors at risk and protecting the program for the millions who depend on it.

Sincerely,

Better Medicare Alliance
